The price for this trip is 320 € per person, plus plane tickets. This price includes all food, accommodation and transportation within Morocco. It does not include the flight to Morocco, nor your personal expenses (possible 20-40 € for gifts, etc). If you want to go, I need to know that so that you can purchase plane tickets—please do not purchase them until I confirm that the trip is going—I need a minimum of 6 travelers to make it feasible and a maximum of 19 per weekend.

This is a fun trip on which you can also learn a lot—by meeting people in addition to seeing the sights. Morocco was recently ranked the #3 country in the world for welcoming foreign tourists, after Iceland and New Zealand. Why would you go to such a friendly place and not meet the locals?

I really enjoy taking students to Morocco and sharing this amazing place with them. Please join me!
